

1. The executive order enacted by Obama would only be temporary and could expire in 2017. If Hillary Clinton decides to run for President and says she will support the executive order and renew the legal work permits for undocumented immigrants who have U.S. citizen children, how likely would you be to support Clinton for President in 2016?

Very likely to support Clinton.....	68%
Somewhat likely.....	17%
Not that likely.....	3%
Not at all likely to support Clinton	8%
Don't know	4%
TOTAL LIKELY FOR CLINTON	85%
TOTAL UNLIKELY FOR CLINTON	11%

2. The executive order enacted by Obama would only be temporary and could expire in 2017. If Hillary Clinton decides to run for President and says she will NOT renew the executive order, letting the legal work permits expire for undocumented immigrants who have U.S. citizen children, how likely would you be to support Clinton for President in 2016?

Very likely to support Clinton.....	21%
Somewhat likely.....	16%
Not that likely.....	23%
Not at all likely to support Clinton	32%
Don't know	7%
TOTAL LIKELY FOR CLINTON	37%
TOTAL UNLIKELY FOR CLINTON	55%

3. The executive order enacted by Obama would protect from deportation an estimated 4 to 5 million undocumented immigrant parents who have U.S. citizen children. However it would not provide relief for other immigrants who do not have children and are working in the agriculture, restaurant or hotel service, or construction sectors. If Congress fails to pass a comprehensive immigration reform bill do you think President Obama should use additional executive orders to protect the remaining undocumented immigrant workers?

Yes, additional executive orders	73%
No.....	21%
Don't know	6%
Refused	*

4. Now take a moment to think about all the people in your family, your friends, co-workers, and other people you know. Do you happen to know somebody who is an undocumented immigrant? This is completely anonymous, and just for a simple demographic analysis.

Yes.....	64%
No.....	34%
Don't know.....	1%
Refused	1%

About the poll

Latino Decisions interviewed 405 randomly selected Latino registered voters nationwide from November 20 - 22, 2014 and contains a margin of error of +/- 4.9%. Respondents were interviewed by fully bilingual interview staff and given the option to complete the poll in English or Spanish and surveys averaged 10 minutes in length. Sample was drawn from the national L2 database of registered voters and is representative of Latino voters nationally. The survey was designed by Latino Decisions co-founders Matt Barreto and Gary Segura on behalf of Presente.org, NALACC and Mi Familia Vota.
