Methodology: On behalf of Univision News, Latino Decisions partnered with NorthStar Opinion to implement a national survey of Latino registered voters (n=1,043 +/- 3.0%). In addition, an oversample of n=500 Texas Latino registered voters were surveyed and combined with Texas Latinos in the national sample for a total of n=641 Texas Latinos (+/- 3.9%). Finally, a sample of non-Latino Texans (n=504) was implemented and combined with the Texas Latino sample (n=500) for a total Texas statewide sample of n=1,004 (+/- 3.1%). The two Texas components were in partnership with the Center for Mexican American Studies at the University of Houston. Field dates were Aug 31 – Sep 6, 2019. Respondents were all randomly selected from the vote file and given the opportunity to complete the survey via telephone (cell or landline) or to self-complete the survey via email invitation on their phone or computer. All respondents were confirmed to be registered voters and matched against the voter file (TargetSmart). The survey was available in English or Spanish at the discretion of each respondent at point of contact, both phone and email invitations were available in either English or Spanish. Once data collection was complete post-stratification weights were added to ensure that the final sample matched the best known estimates for registered voters from the Census CPS for state, age, gender, education, nativity. For Texas the statewide sample was weighted to match the racial/ethnic demographics of the state (Anglo 56%; Hispanic 28%; black 13%; other 3%). The survey was developed by Dr. Sergio Garcia-Rios, director of polling at Univision, in consultation with Latino Decisions and NorthStar Opinion, and UH Professor Jeronimo Cortina.
